

Draw your animal before it changed:

PLANS FOR MY PORQUE STORY

By Brian "Fox" Ellis
The type of Animal I have chosen:

_____.

Draw your animal as it looks today:

Write a brief description of its unique characteristics. How does it look today?

Write a brief description of how it once was before it changed. How did it change?

Write a brief description of its habitat or home including information about weather, food, shelter, landforms, and other plants and animals who share its home.

What problem does your animal face?

How does he/she solve it?

Make an outline of your story:

Beginning:

Middle:

End:

What does your main character learn from this adventure? What can we learn from his/her mistakes and successes? What is the moral of the story?

Use this information as an outline for writing your own how and why story!
